Dear Dr. Geller,

Please allow me to say once again how grateful I am for your skill and kindness.

Now I know first-hand that the technique you developed for the laser treatment of floaters is both safe and effective---it's the "real McCoy" and no one should hesitate to do what I did: come to Florida and get this non-invasive and affordable procedure.

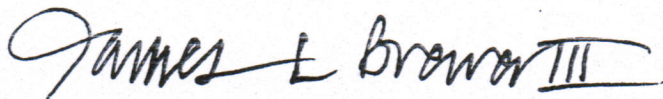

As a physician myself, I thought several times on the flight home how I wish that in my practice I could help my patients as quickly and happily as you do.

My daughter, who just turned 15, watched the video-recording of the laser procedure which you sent with me and then asked how she might follow in your footsteps!

Hopefully at some point the world of ophthalmology will have caught up with you and laser vitreolysis will be helping many more floater sufferers than it is now.

May God bless you in your fine work.

Sincerely,
